

Introducing Tinder Stacks for iMessage - Swipe on Everything

UPDATE: Tinder Stacks was discontinued in May 2018.

If it's a decision that counts, stack it.

For those who love to swipe, life just got better. Tinder is bringing its iconic Right Swipe-Left Swipe decision making to iMessage, so now you and your friends can swipe on everything. With Tinder Stacks, you can send your friends a stack of options to swipe and vote on—from which selfie should be your profile pic to which outfit you should wear tonight.

We know that life is full of difficult decisions. So, whenever you need more input, Tinder Stacks will help you get your friends to weigh in. Not sure which party shot you should post from last night? Stack it. Need input on which filter you should add to your beach photos? Stack it. Group decision-making drama is a thing of the past. Just stack it.

Tinder brings its iconic Right Swipe-Left Swipe decision making to iMessage. Now, you and your friends can swipe everything, from your new profile pic to which outfit you should wear. Simply create a stack from a selection of photos, send it to your friends, and see how they swipe.

Here's how it works:

With Tinder Stacks, we're bringing swiping to everyone, in any scenario. To stack, all you need is a question for your friends and the Tinder app downloaded on your phone.

Why? Because with every swipe, the world becomes a happier place—it all stacks up.
