Tinder Newsroom

Tinder Welcomes Class of 2019

And parents everywhere are rejoicing.

School's out, summer's in session, and 18-year-olds around the nation are finally taking their happiness into their own hands.

"Thank god for Tinder," says Betty Sommerson, mother of graduating senior Chad Sommerson. "I was beginning to think the coddling would never end."

We hear you, Mrs. Sommerson. And more importantly, we're here for you. We know Chad's got a lot going for him. You've raised him well. You've taught him some solid values. You've done an impeccable job and our hat's off to you. But now, he's ready for the next chapter of his life. So you can relax. We'll take it from here.

Sure Chad, you might have hoped your graduation gift would be a new car, or a trip to Mykonos. But we're here to give you and your classmates something infinitely more rewarding. We give you the gift of Tinder.

Reach for the stars.

WINNER GETS $10K AND A SUMMER OF GOLD

Tweet at us, tag 3 friends, and tell us what your senior prank was. Best prank wins a summer of Gold for all of you. Don't have 3 friends? Get on Tinder. Winner is officially named Tinderdictorian, Class of 2019 and gets $10k. Think of it as a Tinder scholarship--our contribution to your future.

Must be 18+ & resident of the U.S. Ends 5/17. See Official Ruleshere.

Make your own Tinder superlatives. Most likely to break the internet with your good looks and charm? Let's see what you got. Upload your photo here.

Congratulations, Class of 2019! It's time to explore.

Must be 18 years old to use Tinder. Until then, enjoy your youth.

Additional assets available online: Photos (2)

https://www.tinderpressroom.com/tinder-welcomes-class-of-2019